

SPRING
2009
PUBLIC INTEREST
AUCTION

Providing Students Opportunities
to Change Communities

Over the past fourteen years, the Public Interest program has raised and awarded over $50,000 in Summer Public Interest Fellowship Stipends to over 50 students. The Fellows have applied and been chosen by a committee for their past involvement in Public Interest and their desire to continue Public Interest after graduation from law school. These students participate in non-profit summer programs assisting those in the community who are most in need: abused women and children, individuals impaired physically and mentally, the aged, minorities and other under-privileged persons and groups.

The program began in 1994 and each year it has been able to help students to pursue their goals and dreams of becoming public interest attorneys.

Law students at Ohio Northern University College of Law continue the history of public service in actively seeking ways to make a difference in our society.

Donate & Attend the Auction

Every year alumni, faculty, staff, friends of the university and students donate items/cash, match funds & bid to make the auction successful. Let's keep the momentum going and make the 2009 Public Interest Auction the best one yet!

Public Interest Student Fellowship Information

A public interest position is definable as working for the following:

1. Non-profit organizations or legal aid offices that represent under-represented clients (e.g. poor, elderly), groups or interests (e.g. minority groups).
2. Government agencies, including public defenders, prosecutors, civil rights or consumer rights groups.
3. Clerking for a judge but not receiving credit for this position.

Criteria for Selection

Public Interest Commitment: A principal criterion for selection is a demonstrated commitment to a public service career. A number of factors, including participation in public interest activities in college or following college, and participation in public interest activities in law school, may demonstrate this commitment.

Applicants receive consideration who may not have amassed a substantial public interest record but who have demonstrated their commitment in other ways and/or have explained the circumstances that may have deterred them from participation in such activities in the past.

Application Process: You may pick up applications in the Law Career Services office or you can download the application from the Career Services web page. Interested students must submit an application, a one-page essay and a resume to Law Alumni and Career Services office by:

The Public Interest Auction Is For Everyone

The Office of Law Career Services has sponsored The Public Interest Auction/Raffle over the past ten years to help provide stipends for Summer Public Interest Fellowships that aid students in unpaid summer positions serving the public.

Businesses, individuals, students and professors are invited to participate in the auction by donating items. The public, alumni, guests, professors and students are also invited to attend and bid at the auction. A complimentary luncheon precedes the auction. Cash donations for the cost of luncheon are always appreciated.

This program has been designed to encourage participation from everyone - alumni, friends of the college, faculty, staff, students, public interest employers and organizations—every individual interested in helping our community. This event offers fun and excitement, good food, education incentives for students and support for Public Interest programs across the nation. It also offers the community an opportunity to meet and network with our law students as they help in a very worthy endeavor.
